

Education Projects

Education has been one of the foundations upon which Ireland's economic strength has been built.

Davis Langdon PKS have been in the forefront of educational buildings in Ireland.

In Trinity College, Davis Langdon PKS have been quantity surveyors for landmark buildings such as the Graduates Memorial Building (constructed to mark the college's tercentenary in 1895) and the Beckett Theatre (constructed to mark the college's quarter centenary in 1995) as well as the Arts and Social Sciences Building and the East End Development. Davis Langdon PKS were also on hand to help with the reconstruction of the Dining Hall after a near disastrous fire.

Education buildings need to be well designed, robust but flexible enough to meet the needs of generations to come.

Scarce resources and tight cost limits mean that education buildings must be economic to construct and to maintain.
