

Residential Projects

Davis Langdon PKS have extensive experience in the residential sector.

From major projects such as the Kilmainham and Stillorgan Hill Residential schemes to smaller but equally important housing schemes such as the Newcastle West Housing Scheme, Davis Langdon PKS have gained considerable experience in the private and public residential sectors throughout Ireland. We also have unrivalled international and UK experience in this sector.

Davis Langdon PKS have provided Quantity Surveying services on major residential and mixed use schemes such as Spaight's Mixed Use Development in Limerick and Paul's Quay Mixed Use Development in Wexford and have a comprehensive database of relevant cost information for use on future private and public schemes.

We have been involved in major new build and refurbishment accommodation for schools and Universities throughout Ireland including Trinity College, Kings Hospital School, Clongowes Wood College and University College Limerick.

The Davis Langdon PKS residential team can bring enormous experience and real commitment to the design of residential projects.
